FURTHER EVIDENCE SHOWING FERGUSON RAN HIGHWAY BOARD

BOSQUE COUNTY COMMIS- SIONER TELLS OF EXPER- IENCE BEFORE BOARD

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 28.—P. P. McElwath, road contractor of Corsicana, told the House investigating committee today he had a surprising contract in Webb county on which he was paid 12 1-2c per square yard. He applied 2 1-2 gallons of asphalt to the square yard and made a profit of about 8 per cent, he said. For similar work the American Road Company was paid 30c a square yard and applied only half a gallon of asphalt, the witness asserted.
Citizens of Navarro county took a double page advertisement in the Ferguson Forum in a good roads campaign, he said, which cost $300 to $500. He did not remember whether he authorized his name to be put on the Ferguson Forum's good roads page, but guessed he did.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 28.—Excerpts from the minutes of the State Board of Education showing that James B. Ferguson on September 11 and October 25, 1926, presided at board meetings were read into the record of the House investigating committee today by S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and ex-officio secretary of the board.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, chairman of the board, was not present when her husband presided. Those present were Mrs. Emma Grigsby Meharg, Secretary of State; Comptroller S. H. Terrell, Marrs and Ferguson.
Marrs said that on September 11 the board purchased $130,111 of school bonds and October 25 bought $45,204 of bonds. On September 11, the board set aside $40,000 to be used in distribution of the rural aid fund of $1,500,000. The state superintendent testified yesterday that Ferguson never cast a vote for his wife at any of the board meetings.

Further Highway Probe.

The committee called further witnesses today in its Highway Department inquiry.
E. Jenkins, Bosque county commissioner, testified C. H. Vaneman, prior to being awarded the maintenance contract for Bosque county, was advised by W. W. Wright, former Bosque county sheriff to go to George Robertson, "Jim Ferguson's personal representative in Bosque county." Robertson a short time ago, was appointed Highway Commissioner by Governor Ferguson.

Jenkins related that with two other Bosque county citizens he came to Austin to urge the maintenance work to be continued by Bosque county.

"We saw Jim Ferguson one Sunday in the Governor's office," he said. "We went to him because we know he was sitting with the Highway Commission. He told us he was going to continue to sit with the commission, because it handled so much money."
Ferguson Sits In on Commission.
"The following Monday we appeared before the commission, and submitted a statement showing that highway maintenance for 1924 had cost Bosque county $24,382. Commissioners Frank Lanham and Joe Burkett and Jim Ferguson were present."

"After the body heard our case, Ferguson told me 'that's all right.' Of course, we thought maintenance would stay in the county. Later I learned at the time we appeared before the committee Vaneman's contract had been signed."

Jenkins said he understood Vaneman was paid $24,500 for the Bosque county maintenance for 1925.
A. B. Martin, Plainview attorney, testified he told former Governor Ferguson that he did not want to represent the Russell Grader Manufacturing Company of Dallas before the Highway Commission, and had not and would not accept a fee to represent them as he did not handle that line of legal business.

Martin said he did not introduce E. A. Williams, secretary-treasurer of the grader company to Ferguson as L. N. Jordan of Plainview testified recently.
The attorney explained that C. W. Elam, Russell Grader man at Plainview, told him that his company was unable to get any business from the state and that since the company was a big Texas concern he was interested and came to Ferguson to relate the troubles of the company. He was met by Williams in Austin. At the conference with the former governor, he concluded that Ferguson felt that former Senator T. H. McGregor of Austin was the most available attorney, he said.

McGregor, Williams and himself held a conference where Williams agreed to pay McGregor a $1,000 fee and a 5 per cent commission on all highway department sales he was instrumental in procuring for the company.
McGregor offered to split the fee with him, but he refused the offer.

COLDER WEATHER FOR NORTH TEXAS DUE IN SHORT TIME

MUCH COLDER WEATHER IS PREDICTED IN OKLAHOMA AND WEST TEXAS

By Associated Press.
Wichita Falls, Texas, Oct. 28.—A cold north wind sweeping off the Kansas plains struck Forgan and Woodward, Okla., at 7 o'clock Thursday morning and an hour later the temperature had dropped from sixty to fifty degrees. The skies in Northwest Oklahoma were cloudy and much colder weather is expected in that region.

Texline reported fifty degrees at 5 o'clock, Amarillo 55 and Childress 60. The skies in the western part of the Panhandle were clear and there was a south breeze.

O. R. SMITH FIRST TAKE ADVANTAGE OF COTTON OFFER

SUBSCRIPTION TO LIGHT FOR EVERY FOUR POUNDS OF COTTON

O. R. Smith, Wortham, Texas, Rural Route No. 1, holds the distinction of being the first farmer to take advantage of the offer of the Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light whereby one year's subscription to this popular county paper is given in exchange for four pounds of good ginned cotton properly sacked.

Mr. Smith brought his four pounds of cotton to the Semi-Weekly Light office Thursday morning and was given a receipt for the Light for one year. This is paying at the rate of 25c a pound for cotton as the Light is $1.00 a year in advance.

The cotton brought in by Mr. Smith was in a cotton sack and tied with a cotton string.
Bring in your cotton and get the Semi-Weekly Light for one year—the offer is good on both renewals and new subscriptions.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER POUND OFFERED FOR FARMERS' COTTON

The Sun-Light Publishing Company, publishers of the Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Light, are making a unique yet very profitable offer to the cotton farmers of this section. The bare facts are that an offer of 25 cents per pound is being made for their cotton when it is selling at 10 cents per pound and a little above.

This offer is made on the subscriptions to the Semi-Weekly Morning Light. The price of this popular paper is $1.00 per year, cash in advance, and the offer is for a year's subscription to the paper for four pounds of good list cotton delivered at this office.

Rally Services at Pleasant Grove

The big rally service is staged for Pleasant Grove next Sunday night, Oct. 31st, opening promptly at 7 o'clock. If you want to have a real good time, listening to some things that are worth while, don't miss this big rally service. Come with a smile, and you shall be benefited. Come early, that you may get a good seat.

Religious Services At David's Chapel

There will be services at David's Chapel next Sunday, Oct. 31st at 11 o'clock a. m. You are cordially invited to come. Let us make this a glorious service of general thanksgiving, in counting our many blessings. So if you have anything to be thankful for, come, and if you are not thankful, come anyway. George G. Smith, Pastor.

Martin said.
Williams told the committee that the Russell Grader Company has sold to the Highway Commission since its inception equipment valued at about $48,260, about $23,000 of which was sold during the present administration.
These sales were obtained by low bidding through the board of control. Only about 8 per cent was made on a $10,000 or $12,000 job, Williams said, explaining that he made the bid nearly at cost to see if he could get a contract.

CONTRACT LET FOR ADDITION TO GARAGE BY DRANE AND M'KEE

Drane & McKee have let the contract for the construction of a brick addition to their large garage at the corner of Main and Col. streets. The new building will extend back from their present building to Twelfth street on Col. The addition will be 75x150 feet and will cost approximately $16,000. J. E. Metcalf and Son were the successful bidders.
The new building will be used for the most part as the work shop of the garage, giving more storage space in the old building.

RESEARCH WORKER FOR A. AND M. WILL VISIT THIS COUNTY

Miss Jessie Whitacre, a new worker in the Division of Research of Rural Homes, of the A. & M. College will be the guest of Miss Elmer Lawson, county home demonstration agent, Friday. It was announced at Miss Lawson's office Wednesday. In picking out cotton counties to visit and to learn the home life of rural people Navarro county was chosen.
Miss Whitacre is from Ohio and is not familiar with the home life of Texans and is taking this opportunity to learn something of their conditions before she makes her program for her work.

ADVICE TO NEGRO FARMERS ON WINTER PLANTING OF GRAIN

W. H. Phillips, negro county agent, gives the following advice to negro farmers which they will do well to act on. Following this advice will prove satisfactory for winter feed for the stock as well as save the soil to a certain extent from washing away.
"One of the many and perhaps the most important of all things to be done," the agent said, "is that the farmer should try to save his soil. This can be done two ways, one is to terrace his farm, and the other is to plant a winter crop of wheat, oats, rye, barley or some other grain. And this should be done before the winter rains start," he stated. Information on this subject can be obtained free of cost from the county agent.

SATURDAY WILL BE EAST TEXAS DAY AT WACO COTTON PALACE

Saturday, October 30th will be East Texas Day at the Waco Cotton Palace. It was announced Monday to the Chamber of Commerce in a letter from the East Texas Chamber at Longview. Encouraged by the fact that over 20,000 East Texans visited the Dallas fair last Saturday which was East Texas Day the Chamber at Longview is expecting a great day at Waco.

There will be a number of attractions for the occasion among which will be the East Texas program of vocal and instrumental music, and the A. & M. Baylor football game which will follow the program.

F. W. Chunn of Waco was a business visitor in Corsicana Thursday afternoon.

HOLD TIGHT TO YOUR COTTON

In a recent issue of the Manufacturers Record the cotton situation in the South was discussed
 as follows:

To every cotton grower in the South should be sent the message,
 "Hold tight to your cotton and then hold still tighter, and keep on holding tight to it so long as present
 low prices prevail."

The farmers have it in their power to stem this downward movement of cotton by holding their cotton off the market and absolutely refusing to sell it at present prices.

Cotton is selling below the actual cost of production. Unlike wheat or corn or other products of the farm, which are ruined by long standing, cotton can stand for 50 years if well protected from the weather and still be good and substantial cotton.

At present farmers are acting like men in a crowded house when somebody cries "Fire," even where there is no fire, and then they all rush pell-mell trampling each other to death in getting out when an orderly movement from the building would have been infinitely better. As though they were actually afraid that to hold a bale of cotton would burn their fingers, farmers are rushing to get rid of their staple, dumping it on a declining market, each farmer apparently trying to outdo the other in the speed with which he gets his cotton sold. It is no wonder that cotton declines under such circumstances. Every newspaper and every business man in the country ought to do all in his power to stem this panicky condition of cotton growers and persuade them to hold their cotton, and hold it tight, until prices react.

Harvey Jordan, a cotton grower of many years' standing and the managing director of the American Cotton Association, has issued an appeal to the farmers of the South in which some striking statements are made as to the extent which the cotton mills of the world are buying cotton at present prices.
 "These mills know that cotton is below the cost of production and, therefore, they know they are buying an absolute certainty in stocking up at low prices. In his statement Mr. Jordan says:

"It is reported in reliable press dispatches that foreign and domestic spinners are taking advantage of present low prices for cotton to secure supplies for several years' consumption. This action is based upon the well-established trade rule to 'Buy any staple commodity when it is below the actual cost of production.'"

"Spot cotton occupies that position in the daily channels of domestic and international commerce. The into sight movement and sale of spot cotton this season has been unprecedented and exceeded the heavy movement to date of one year ago. The growers appear to be panic stricken in the face of rapidly falling prices and are rushing the staple to market in unheard-of quantity."

"The present estimates of a large crop, unprecedented sales and consequent heavy hedging of purchases by buyers on the cotton exchanges is paralyzing the market.
 Until these heavy sales by the growers are checked there can be no stability of the market or check to depressing prices. Every daily and weekly paper in the South should hammer these facts before the farmers in every county of the cotton belt. That mills are buying heavily for future requirements there is substantial evidence in the daily news."

"That this is a matter for serious consideration as an outstanding factor for heavy cotton-acreage reduction in 1927 there is no question of argument. If the crop is sold as fast as glined, the effect

now being made to finance a large portion of the crop will be a failure. There is no danger in holding cotton when the price of the staple is so far below the actual cost of production as at present.

"The bankers and every other agency in the South should promptly combine to finance and hold off the market every bale possible. The next effective move of the growers is to plant a largely increased acreage in oats and wheat during the next 30 days. The slogan should be, 'Make the South green with small grain.' There is no occasion for a panic even in the face of another large crop. The world must have cotton in ever-increasing quantity each year."

"The present large surplus will soon be absorbed by decreasing production in 1927, just as happened in 1921. The purchasing power of the growers and the South is being largely destroyed by the present panicky disposition of the farmers to sell. Stop selling.
 Finance the crop in storage until the mills need the staple next year by making the South green with grain in October and November."

"Fight to win and not to surrender."
 "Hold tight to your cotton,"
 should be the South's motto just now, and sow wheat and oats and forest crops this fall as never before."

UNITED STATES OF EUROPE.

In Vienna a Pan-European congress has met to propose ways and means for bringing all continental European nations under one economic head. Its real object is the abolition of tariff barriers within Europe; free trade among the continental nations, and such tariffs with respect to the rest of the world as some central body may ratify.

This may seem a visionary undertaking. Yet between the Revolution and the adoption of our constitution the 13 American states
 each had its own tariff system.
 New England, New York and Pennsylvania were becoming industrial, and so they adopted protective tariffs. New Jersey and Delaware were the free trade. Virginia had moderate protective duties on several articles. Maryland and the Southern states had few tariffs, but Virginia, Maryland and Georgia had certain export duties. These tariffs, both import and export, applied to the other states as well as to foreign countries, so that insofar as trade was concerned each state was virtually an independent nation, just as the nations of Europe are today. The one advantage they had, which Europe does not enjoy, was a common language.

It did not take the practical men of America long to see that if the states were to get along well together, and to be strong in confederation against a foreign foe, they must agree on commercial questions; and in the constitutional convention the most important right that the individual states surrendered was the right to regulate commerce. The result of that surrender was that there were tariff battles in congress for a century and a quarter, and that during most of this time the United States had a protective tariff that was beneficial to some and harmful to others. Nevertheless, the advantage of a central control of commerce far outweighed the disadvantages, and out of it grew a prosperity that is today the wonder of the world.

If the nations of Europe can profit by our example they will not only enjoy better times, but they will take a long step toward the realization of that United States of Europe which is the dream of many wise statesmen.

All interested in education, especially all parents, should hear Dr. Splawn Saturday morning at the courthouse when he addresses the countryside meeting called in the interest of securing a junior college for this county. Dr. Splawn is one of the outstanding educators of the United States and he will bring a message that all should hear. Representatives from every section of the county are expected to attend this important meeting Saturday.

Every Democrat should vote in the general election Tuesday November 2. Of course the G. O. P. hasn't got a chance but we do not want the Elephant to think for a minute that he is galloping ground in the Lone Star State. Turn out and vote and help keep the G. O.
 P. in its place.

It would help a lot if more persons could see the poetry of life and fewer would try to write it.

Believes Government Has Made a Mistake

In regard to the Government report of the indicated cotton production I want to say that the eggs are being counted before they are hatched. For example the late Government report said that Oklahoma would produce 1,600,000 bales of cotton. The same report said that 360,000 bales had been ginned up to Oct. 18. That leaves 1,300,000 bales in the fields of Oklahoma. In my opinion Oklahoma will never pick 1,500,000 from now on, because cold weather and rain is now on in Oklahoma and the picking can not be done. Nearly the same ratio figures applies to Texas, besides, practically all gathered from now on will be low grade and bollixes.

STANDARD BEARER OF REPUBLICANS IN TEXAS SPOKE HERE

A greater, more powerful, prosperous and better governed Texas was envisioned by Colonel Harvey H.
 Haines, of Houston, Republican nominee for governor of Texas, in a speech to citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county at the court house Tuesday night. The district court room was almost filled.

The two-party system, which will make Texas a doubtful state politically, was seen by the candidate as the means by which Texas would be elevated to greater influence and power in national affairs and by which better state government would be secured.

Col. Haines arrived in Corsicana
 Tuesday afternoon from Texarkana and was met by a committee of prominent local Republicans and escorted to the Navarro Hotel, where at 6:30 o'clock a dinner was tendered the Colonel, with some twenty-two present, consisting of leading Republicans, Judge Hawkins Scarborough, who had been asked to introduce the candidate, and newspaper men.

After the dinner the party all went to the court house where quite a number had gathered in the district court room, and at 8 o'clock Judge Scarborough introduced Col.
 Haines, and stated that while he was a Democrat and was going to continue to vote the Democratic ticket, he felt that a closer division in the ranks of the voters as between the two parties might result in a political standpoint.

Confidence in his own election as governor at the general election, radiated from Colonel Haines, who is vice president and general manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, and who was granted a leave of absence from that body when the Republicans urged him to make the race. He won the nomination in the first Republican primary ever held, by a three to one majority.

date's speech, though he poked a little good natured fun at Dan Moody, his Democratic opponent, always blunting the barb of criticism with some whole-hearted tribute to his antagonist's likable qualities.

"If we had the two party system
 in Texas and this was a doubtful state, neither Dan Moody nor I would be running for governor.
 There are better men for the job than either of us, and the parties would be forced to call on them," said the speaker. "And the two parties would both be responsive to the will of the people, for whose support they would be forced to compete."

"We are the greatest state in the Union in area, farm values, farm products, fifth in population, first or second in foreign trade, near the top in all human endeavor. But we are impotent in national councils for we have been out of step with the party in power for three fourths of the time during two generations.
 "The news, on the morning after the election, flashed across the top of the front page of every American newspaper, 'Texas Elects Republican Governor,' would mean a rehabilitation of Texas in the eyes of the world, a turning of legiti-mate capital to Texas, a matching of the state's magnificent standing in agriculture with an equal rating in industry."

"One of the reasons for the periodical depressions in the cotton business is the fact that the Texas farmer pays in round figures, $10 a bale in freight rates to a Northern mill, the cost of manufacture there, and $10 freight on the finished product back. The confidence in Texas that a Republican administration will bring, will put cotton, and wool and grain prices in Texas and keep the wages and wealth in Texas."

"Encouragement of railroad traffic, rather than added tax burdens, will increase railroad business so that rates can be cut and so help
 the Texas farmer."

"Federal appropriations are lavished upon doubtful states, Texas gets little attention because Democrats do not have to do anything for her, in the rare intervals when they are in power, and Republicans know that their attentions are of no use."

"We should cease voting our prejudices of years ago and vote our convictions of today. Every interest of Texas lies in the direction of Republican policy."

"The educational system of this state should be divorced from partisan politics and put in the hands of competent educators. Read the Republican platform on education.
 It is the finest statement on the subject ever put out by a political party in Texas."

"I have never sought public office before. I have never wanted public office. But I am tremendously in earnest in desiring to serve the people of Texas, in bringing to this state the two-party system, and the great things that will follow
 in its train."

Landscaping — Plant Pecans For Shade

"It's Not a Home Until It's Planted."

Make Your Farm Pay

Navarro County is a Native Pecan County. Money grows on our Paper Shell Pecan trees: peaches, plums and figs.

Call Robert Cooksey at 665 and let him explain our propositions and show you his 500 pecan trees, over 90 per cent living after going through ruthless summers of 1924 and 1925; and over 400 peach, plum, pear, and cherry trees, 95 per cent living, on his property near Roane. He will take you there and show RESULTS of planting our well rooted, acclimated, Texas growing trees, dug fresh for your order.

See Chamber of Commerce window display of the EVOLUTION OF PECANS, from the little, hard-shelled Mexican seedling to the improved Paper Shell, full of delicious meat.

SALES PLAN.

We will sell you the trees, show you how to plant and care for them. You do all the work.

PLANTING PLAN.

We will sell the tree, lay out your orchard, dig the hole, prune the roots, set the tree and water it when planted. All by experts. We will guarantee 90 to 100 per cent to live if you keep the weeds out and ground cultivated properly. Any soil that is well drained and will grow cotton without root rot will grow pecans.

UPKEEP PLAN.

We will do all the work outlined in our planting plan and in addition will cultivate and keep weeds cleaned out, spray when needed, and fertilize.

TOPWORK PLAN.

We will cut back your native trees, BUD AND GRAFT with best Paper Shell Pecans, clear out underbrush, etc.

NEGLECTED ORCHARDS

PLANS MADE FOR ARMISTICE DAY AND WILL ROGERS SHOW

FLYING CIRCUS ALSO TO BE STAGED WITH AID OF LOCAL LEGION

Plans for the Armistice Day celebration and the Will Rogers show which will be given November 11 and 12, respectively, were briefly outlined at the monthly meeting of the Johnson-Wiggins Post of the American Legion Wednesday night, with Post Commander Orlin M. Boynton presiding over the meeting.

The meeting opened with a brief talk by William Bowman of the Garver's Flying Circus, who asked the co-operation of the Legion to put on an aerial rodeo Sunday afternoon on the Eden's farm, six miles south of the city between the Angus and Navarro roads. The admission to the field will be 50c and the Legion will receive 20 per cent of the receipts. This suggestion was heartily endorsed by all present and ten men volunteered to help advertise the flying circus and to take gate receipts. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free. Passengers desiring to take a bird's eye view of the city may do so for $2.50 a trip.

On Armistice Day a meeting will be held in one of the theatres for one hour some time in the forenoon. It was stated. A dinner will be given at the lake club house for $1.50 a plate. The post commander is trying to get Governor Dan Moody to speak at the theatre that day and if possible to remain over to attend the Will Rogers show the next day.

A committee composed of David Daniels, chairman; Wayne Brown, Fred Jeffers, F. T. Seale, Chas. Bee, Jr., Alfred Goldman, Robert Irvine and Wm. Smith to prepare the Armistice Day luncheon, while another committee composed of Beauford Jester, chairman; W. V. Mowlam, R. M. Tilley, Sidney Bretz and James McMahon were named to take charge of the entertaining program for that day. A nominating committee for the nomination of officers for the coming year, which will be the first Legion meeting after Armistice Day, was named. They are as follows: Suttle Roberts, Wilson David, Wayne Howell, Earl Ellis and L. J. Woods.

A motion was put before the house and seconded that in the near future that enough members combine on a chance to attend the 1927 American Legion convention to be staged in Paris, France. It was suggested that each member interested in the trip put a certain sum in a "pot" with his name on a piece of paper and some one draw out a name, the name's name on the number drawn out receiving the money in the pot to help defray, or pay, the expenses of his trip to Paris. If this proves successful a second drawing may be had so as to have as many as possible attend the convention from Corsicana.

ADVERTISING HAS AIDED MATERIALLY LIVING STANDARDS

SPOKE WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT BANQUET OF ADVERTISERS IN WASHINGTON

By Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Coolidge feels that advertising has taken a commanding hand in bringing about "our American scale of wages," the maintenance of which he believes is paramount to the support of the home market.

Speaking Wednesday at the annual banquet of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, the President held it would be remiss to describe advertising as "the life of trade" and as the foundation for "much of the success of the American industrial system."

"The preeminence of American industry, which has constantly brought about a reduction of costs," the President asserted, "has come very largely through mass production. Mass production is only possible where there is mass demand. Mass demand has been created almost entirely through the development of advertising."

"In former days goods were expected to sell themselves. Modern business could neither have been created nor can it be maintained on such a system. It is not enough that goods are made, a demand for them must also be made. It is on this foundation of enlarging production through the demand created by advertising that the success of the modern industrial system rests."

"It will occur at once that the conditions under which these results have been secured should be maintained. It is our high rate of wages which brings about the greatest distribution of wealth that the world has ever seen and provides the enormous capacity for the consumption of all kinds of commodities which characterizes our country."

"If we proceed under our present system, there would appear to be little reason to doubt that we can continue to maintain all of these high standards in wages, in output, and in consumption, increase our foreign commerce."

"But nothing would appear to be plainer than that all depends upon the maintenance of our American scale, which is the main support of our home market."

"It is to be seen that advertising is not an economical waste. It ministers to the true development of trade."

Mr. Coolidge held honesty in business to be the only method of permanent success and declared there can be no permanent basis for advertising except a representation of the exact truth.

"If our commercial life," he continued, "is to be clear and wholesome and permanent in the last resort, it will be because those who are engaged in it are determined to make it so. The ultimate reformers of business must be business men themselves. My conception of what advertising agencies want is a business world in which the standards are so high that it will only be necessary for them to tell the truth about it."

"The national government has a large interest in all these problems, though many of them are confined in their jurisdiction to the states. The general welfare of the country, its progress and prosperity, are very intimately connected with the commerce that flows from agriculture and industry."

The President said that if this commerce were not in a healthy condition "want and distress" eventually would creep into the home.

The country "in the main" has been and is prosperous, he asserted, and "perhaps the most creditable aspect of our present prosperity is that wages are high while profits have been moderate."

"From a recent fear of being exploited by large aggregation of wealth," he continued, "the people of America are learning to make such great concerns their most faithful servants. This problem is not entirely solved yet. Here and there abuses occur, but business is gradually being taught that the only methods of permanent success lies in an honest, faithful, conscientious service to the public."

Mr. Coolidge enumerated curtailment of the national debt, decrease of federal employees, tax reductions, limitation of naval armaments, smaller national defense appropriations, the loaning of money for rehabilitation work in Europe and the financing of South America "to the advantage of our foreign commerce" as contributions of the administration to peace and prosperity during the reconstruction period.

"All of this has been a program of constructive economy," he continued, "beneficial alike to ourselves and to other people, in making this economically possible, in spreading its benefits, in carrying its fruits into the homes of the land advertising has supplied and will continue to supply a very important part."

HONEYMOON ENDS WHEN GROOM GOES TO INSANE ASYLUM

By Associated Press.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 27.—The honeymoon ended for Mrs. Fred M. Wells when she beheld the grandeur of her husband's homestead, she told Superior Judge Holzer yesterday.

"After we were married, Mr. Wells told me we would drop in to visit his father on our honeymoon trip," Mrs. Wells related. "After a long ride he turned in at a driveway which led up among an imposing group of buildings. I was amazed at the size of the estate."

Mrs. Wells admitted she was surprised to see so many people on the grounds, but it was not until the groom asked for his father that the truth dawned upon her.

"Judge, we were in the insane asylum at Patton," she explained.

Mrs. Wells said she investigated and learned that Wells was on parole from the institution when she married him. Judge Holzer annulled the marriage.

MANY FINE HOGS WILL BE PURCHASED FOR LOCAL FARMERS

THOSE WANTING HOGS ASKED TO NOTIFY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

After spending several weeks in checking the hog market from Texas to Dakota, it was explained at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning that the Agricultural Committee would probably purchase around 140 head of well bred pigs and stockers for the farmers of Navarro county within the next day or so.

Chairman J. L. Halbert of the committee which has been working on the proposal of restocking the county with hogs, is anxious to get in touch with farmers who would like to get one or more pigs. Many requests have already come to the Chamber of Commerce for hogs but the committee desires to know as fully as possible how many are needed and to determine if additional purchases are necessary.

The belief is wide spread that the purchase of hogs on the right basis to consume the heavy feed crop offers one of the most attractive investments for Navarro county farmers available.

Ever since the suggestion was made by Chairman Halbert at the Blooming Grove mass meeting some weeks ago, the suggestion of getting more hogs in the county has resulted in inquiries pouring into the Chamber of Commerce almost daily indicating the strong interest among farmers in turning their feed into meat for the family or into high priced pork for sale during the winter.

Those interested should get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce or their bank.

ALLISON SHOWING FAITH IN BETTER AND MORE SWINE

Showing his faith in the live stock program for Navarro county, A. A. Allison, member of the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee, received yesterday a blue ribbon hog which he had purchased at the Dallas fair.

The animal comes from a splendid line and is rated as a very choice individual, having proven himself a winner under strong competition.

In order to help the movement along to increase the swine industry of the county, Mr. Allison has placed this blue ribbon winner on his farm at Richland, and has made what is considered a unique proposal to farmers interested in hogs.

Mr. Allison offers the advantage of his purchase to any farmer who will bring along a hush of corn. This arrangement will about take care of the board bill," smiled Mr. Allison—"that is all I am interested in."

FLYING CIRCUS TO BE STAGED SUNDAY SOUTH CORSICANA

SOME DARING STUNTS WILL BE PULLED BY PAUL DUNCAN HERE

With the advance of time and the progress of industry so is the entertainment of the times changing and advancing. Instead of the tight wire walking, hanging from trapeze in pink tights and the riding of fast horses and changing from one to the other as they gallop around the circus ring now comes the hanging from the wings of airplanes by the teeth and first one hand and the other and the changing from one plane to another in mid air. Jumping from thousands of feet in the air to the ground in parachutes takes the place of diving from a high ladder to a rope net 100 feet below. All of these dare devil stunts are given by Paul Duncan of the Garver's Flying Circus Sunday afternoon in the Eden's field six miles south of Corsicana between the Angus and the Navajo roads.

There will be stunt flying, wing walking and daylight fire works. Admission to the gates will be fifty cents per person with children under twelve years of age admitted free. The plane is piloted by another dare devil in the form of William Bowman. These men have been doing aeronautic stunts throughout the central western states and Mexico. And newspaper clippings which they carry with them show that they were well received and patronized by many thousands of people. They stated they would do stunt flying over the city every evening and would drop a blank bomb from the air Saturday afternoon. Mr. Duncan is a small man and one looking at him would not notice anything in him particular so daring. But pictures in his possession taken from the air shows him to be everything that the word "daring" implies.

Pecan Crop Good

In Kerens Area

Special to the Sun.
Kerens, Texas, Oct. 28.—The pecan crop of the Kerens territory this season is one of the largest raised here in several years, and has begun to come in steadily, being bought up by local shippers at from eight to ten cents per pound, for the native pecans.

Several pecan groves which have been cultivated and grafted are producing nuts that bring a better price, as high as 50c per pound for the choicest ones. The pecan industry is steadily growing in this territory.

GOVERNOR VETOES WILD GAME ZONING BILL OF LAWMAKERS

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 2.—Governor Ferguson today vetoed Senate bill number 304, amending the law governing the zones of the wild game and wild bird shooting as passed by the 29th Legislature. It was vetoed because four counties were left out of the zoning formed by the act of the recent special session, and the governor believed that it would be unfair to adjoining counties.

COMMITTEE WILL SOLICIT FUNDS FOR POULTRY SHOW

December 2, 3, 4, a poultry show will be staged in Corsicana in which all chicken fanciers in the county are expected to participate. The show will be held under the direction of the Navarro County Poultry Association.

Last spring a very successful poultry show was staged under the direction of the same organization. The show in December is expected to far exceed the former show both in the number of exhibits and in attendance.

It takes money to stage such an event and the merchants and business men of the city and county will be asked to subscribe to the fund necessary for the presenting of the exposition.

LIMESTONE COUNTY FARMER KILLED BY PASSENGER TRAIN

Special to the Sun.
Mexico, Texas, Oct. 27.—Knocked down by a Southern Pacific train at Personville station Tuesday, P. Sandifer, aged 77, retired farmer, died in a Mexico hospital during the night from injuries sustained. The aged man was to have been a passenger on the train en route to Austin to visit his daughter.

Max Avenue Missionary Society.
The Max Avenue Missionary Society met October 25 at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Jim Williams. Quite a number were present. This being our social meeting every one came in with a happy smile. We are always glad to meet the smiling faces of the sisterhood of our church and talk over the good spiritual times we all enjoy so much. We also planned for a mission drive and discussed the election of our new officers for our next meeting, which will be Monday, Nov. 1st. We trust to have all the society and a number of other ladies present. Every lady is invited to be present next Monday with us. We were all invited into the dining room and we served hot chocolate and cake which everyone enjoyed so much and we all had a nice, enjoyable evening and our aim is to keep the spiritual fire burning. God be with us in the winter, when the snow lies deep and white; when the sleeping fields are silent and the stars gleam cold and bright, when the hands and hearts are tired with life's long and weary quest. God be with us in the winter just to guide us in the path of righteousness.

THE DANGER SIGNAL.

When a passenger train was speeding along in the night, unaware of a broken bridge ahead, a boy climbed out on the bridge, waved a lantern and saved the train from wreck. Over fifty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, a distinguished physician, knew of the danger symptoms that threaten humanity—loss of appetite, languor, lack of strength, and being a student of the medicinal value of herbs, compounded a wonderful remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a tonic and blood purifier. Vim, Vigor, Vitality follow its use. Try it! Don't forget the Danger Signal.

HARD WINTER IS AHEAD DECLARES PLANT EXPERT

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—It's going to be a bleak, hard winter, despite the late hangover of summer, says J. M. Del Curto, plant pathologist of the State Department of Agriculture.

The tendencies of plant life indicate it, he said. And supporting evidence comes from the fish of the ocean, the hen and birds of the Arctic zone.

Mr. Del Curto, one of the leading State authorities on the science of plant life, has seen numerous indications in Texas crops this year that the winter will be unusually severe and that nature has given warning to its creations to prepare for snow and sleet.

back within ten days to visit his brother.

The Missionary Birthday Party given at the McCord home, November 25th by the Methodist Episcopal ladies, was a huge success. The program was opened with two numbers by the "Kitchen Orchestra," which was very unique and was much appreciated. Old time songs were sung by the men, and then the ladies were highly favored and enjoyed given each tune, followed by readings given by youngsters that displayed much talent and the solo and encore rendered by Mr. W. F. Tucker was the crowning climax.

Then games were entered into with a hearty good will, after which refreshments consisting of a chicken salad course and hot chocolate and ginger bread was served to about one hundred guests. There was left in the Penny Bowl the goodly sum of $26.

Mr. B. M. Fluker went to Temple for X-ray treatment last week end. Mr. Fluker is slowly convalescing to the delight of his many friends.

Mrs. N. R. Nichols visited relatives in Denison last week end. She also visited in Tloga before returning home.

WORDY BATTLE IN CONFERENCE OF WEST TEXAS METHODISTS

San Angelo, Texas, Oct. 28.—The West Texas Methodist conference by common consent this morning invited Dr. H. L. Gray, teacher of Bible in Southwestern University at Georgetown, to appear before the conference here before a journeyment Sunday to explain why he declined to subscribe to the articles of faith adopted by the last General conference of Southern Methodism at Memphis, Tenn., last May. This action came after a wordy battle, lasting almost two hours, when Rev. H. S. Goodenough of Edinburg withdrew his resolution requesting Dr. Gray to resign.

Rev. S. E. Johnson, superintendent, of Corpus Christi, and one of the committee of four that waited on Dr. Gray, declared that Dr. Gray also refused to sign a paper that would have committed himself on evolution. He charged that Dr. Gray among other things held that belief in the virgin birth of Christ was non-essential in teaching the Bible and that the disciples had an optical illusion concerning Christ walking on the water.

Barcus Defends Gray.
Dr. J. Sam Barcus, president of Southwestern University, apparently startled many when in defending Dr. Gray's position, he said that he too would have refused to sign the paper submitted by the committee, believing like Dr. Gray, that a man could better outline his beliefs for himself. A further reason, he said, was that the committee would not agree that signing of the paper would settle the matter finally.

Dr. Barcus read a written declaration of faith by Dr. Gray, which, he said, was submitted to the committee.

Rev. T. F. Sessions, pastor of the University Methodist church at Austin, raised a point of order under paragraph 268, article four, of the church discipline, providing that whenever charges of disseminating false doctrine are preferred the matter must be referred to a committee and be taken up at the next conference. Bishop John S. Moore agreed with Rev. Mr. Sessions and others that it would be unfair to attempt to try Dr. Gray in his absence and suggested that he be advised of the resolution and be invited to appear before the conference. He later commended Rev. Mr. Goodenough for withdrawing his resolution.

Would Have Gray Present.
Dr. Barcus explained that critical illness of Mrs. Gray and the expense involved had prevented Dr. Gray from attending, whereupon the Rev. H. E. Draper, presiding elder of the San Angelo district started a fund to defray Dr. Gray's expenses in coming here.

In quelling the discussion, which for a time threatened to divide the conference, Bishop Moore said that he knew many great Christians who believed in evolution and would not gainsay the sincerity of their belief.

"Is there not space enough for us all?" he asked. "I am thoroughly convinced that we must see to it that the men who teach in our schools hold to the great fundamentals of our religion, that they must believe in and love God. You and I not always will see things in the same light, but we should and can be united in the church of God. Intolerance should be intolerable to all Methodists."

HALL-MILLS TRIAL TO HEAR HUNDRED OR MORE WITNESSES

NOTED CASE WILL BEGIN COURT SESSIONS ON NOVEMBER THIRD

By Associated Press.

Senerville, N. J., Oct. 26.—There are more than 100 principal witnesses ready for the trials of the persons accused of murder of Rev. Wheeler Hall, fashionable new Brunswick church pastor, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, which will start Nov. 3.

The prosecution has announced the names of 80 "principal witnesses," most of whom have circumstantial testimony. They were gathered through a campaign of newspaper publicity, by State Senator Alexander Simpson, who said when the case was re-opened this summer, four years after the killings.

"I will turn this investigation from secrecy to openhandedness,"

Picture of DeRussey's Lane.

Some of the witnesses thus obtained came from far corners of the country, but the most surprising development was the number of persons discovered who claimed to be within a short distance of the scene of the killing the night it occurred.

One question likely to be most often asked, will be, "where were you on the night of September 1, 1922?" That was the night of the killing. State investigators say they have 22 witnesses who will reply to that question: "In DeRussey's Lane."

It was in DeRussey's Lane that the bodies of the pastor of the church of St. John the Evangelist and his choir leader were found with a dozen of her love letters lying between them.

DeRussey's Lane, just on the outskirts of New Brunswick, today is a subdivision. But when the pastor and his chorale used it as a trysting place it was undeveloped country, a dirt road running into Milltown Pike.

Crabapple Tree Souvenirs.

The crabapple tree where the bodies were found long since disappeared. Parts of it were carried away by souvenir hunters. And bits of wood, twigs and branches purporting to have been cut from it were sold on the streets of New York by vendors.

Another famous "figure" in the case also has vanished. This is "Jenny," the mule ridden by Mrs. Jane Gibson, who said she witnessed the killing and saw Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the rector's widow, Willie Stevens, her brother, and Edward de la Bruyere Carpenter, her cousin, at the spot, their faces revealed in the glare of the headlights of an automobile.

The defense plans to call more than 25 witnesses, but has not given publicity to its evidence.

Arm Broken in Fall From Pecan Tree

Special to the Sun.—Kereus, Texas, Oct. 28.—Falling from a pecan tree cost the little six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Deamon a broken arm Sunday afternoon, while the family was hunting pecans on a creek near the city.

The little girl was attempting to shake the nuts from the tree, when she became overbalanced and fell.

The bone of the arm was completely broken above the elbow near the shoulder. The child is reported doing nicely since medical attention was given immediately after the accident.

Shamrock Lubricant on Industrial Machinery

Getting the Right Lubricant in the Right Place

Just because a certain class of oil is in use on a piece of machinery, it is not a true sign that such is the best lubricant. Perhaps a fluid oil is not the most efficient material to use. Here is one instance where a change from fuel to solidified lubricant greatly improved conditions. The net result was lower cost of lubrication, better quality of finished work, and elimination of a cleaning operation.

This was not a change from oil to grease—for Shamrock is not a grease. It is in the form of a grease but is a 100 per cent Petroleum product; therefore it is able to render 100 per cent lubrication.

MILWAUKEE TACK COMPANY.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 3, 1925.

Sinclair Refining Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Gentlemen:

We have used many kinds of lubricating oil in our factory where we operate about 100 nail and tack machines.

Some time ago your representative called on us and introduced his products. After some experimental work we tried your Shamrock Lubricant and have now standardized on it, using it for all bearing cams, and arbors. These machines run cooler and need lubricating oil only once per day, which has cut our costs to about one half.

One desirable feature is the Shamrock Lubricant does not drip on the finished tack, which eliminates the necessity of polishing.

We are forwarding this information because we are very much pleased with the results and are glad to recommend this product.

Yours very truly,
Rennie Lopez,
Superintendent

CORSICANA MAN GROWING PECANS ON ROANE FARM

Robert Cooksey, who owns a large farm in the Roane community, two years ago planted five hundred pecan trees, some of which were at that time three years old. This year Mr. Cooksey gathered a few nuts from many of these trees, marking their first year at bearing. The pecans were grafted from the large paper shell variety, and Mr. Cooksey expects them to prove a valuable acquisition to his farm in a few more years.

Mr. Cooksey has also planted many fruit trees during the past few years, there being peach, pear, plum, cherries and other varieties. Cherries were grown on some of the trees during the past summer, the trees having been planted in January of this year. Mr. Cooksey has more than four hundred fruit trees on his farm.

He believes that everyone should plant pecan trees when they desire a shade tree, as pecans make fine shade and the nuts are growing more valuable daily.

TERRIBLE PAIN

Alabama Lady Tells How She Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui. Feels Fine and Enjoys Life Now, She Says.

Talladega, Ala.—Mrs. Mary Hardy, 406 Henderson Avenue, this city, says that seven years ago she "got down sick" and was unable to attend to her housework.

"I have never been so weak before or since," she says. "I had a terrible pain in my side—so sore in my side and the lower part of my body."

"Across my back ached, and I was so nervous I couldn't stand up. I had just about given up when some one who came to see me began talking about Cardui. This caused me to get it. I took about two bottles before I saw much improvement."

"After this, though, I picked up right away. I slept better at night. I was hungry, enjoyed my food, which I hadn't done for some time."

"The pain and soreness gradually left my side. I regained my strength. I took about six bottles and left off for awhile, then took two or three more. I feel just fine, enjoy life and can work now, too."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. It has helped thousands of suffering women and should help you, too. NC-168

MONTGOMERY WARD AND SEARS-ROEBUCK MAY CONSOLIDATE

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 28.—A new corporation with assets of $235,000,000 and an annual business of more than $450,000,000, is seen by La Salle street in plans for the merger of Sears-Roebuck and Company and Montgomery Ward and Company, the two largest mail order houses in the country.

Informal negotiations, conducted by the largest interests of both concerns for several weeks, have now reached a point where government sanction will be sought, Chicago newspapers said today. It was understood that tentative project was laid before Secretary of Commerce Hoover during his visit to Chicago last week, and that the proposal would be presented to the Federal Trade Commission this week.

The plan, according to La Salle Street's information, is the formation of a new corporation to absorb the present companies, with an exchange of stock of the new concern for that of the old companies. Exact terms have not been worked out, pending government approval. Financial observers estimated the merger would effect a saving of $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year in operating expenses. The outlay now made by both houses for catalogues alone runs between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

APPORTIONMENT FOR STATE SCHOOLS RAISED TO $14.00

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—The State Board of Education today increased the per capita scholastic apportionment for public schools from $11.50 to $14.00. This action was taken following the signing by Governor Ferguson of the emergency appropriation bill of $3,500,000 passed at the recent special session of the Legislature.

HON. L. A. JOHNSON MAKING SPEECHES KENTUCKY CAMPAIGN

Hon. Luther A. Johnson, Congressman from this district, is now making Democratic speeches in Kentucky, according to letters to local friends. The closing week of the campaign Mr. Johnson will make speeches in Missouri. He will not be able to fill his Oklahoma engagements at first announced.

Mr. Johnson expresses the opinion that the Democrats will carry Kentucky. Both of the present Senators are Republicans and one of them is a candidate for re-election. The Democratic nominee is Hon. Alben W. Barkley, present member of the House from the First Kentucky Congressional district.

On Monday, October 18, Mr. Johnson spoke in Mayfield, Ky., and the Mayfield Messenger carried the following report of his address:

"A circuit court room filled with Democrats of the town and county this afternoon had the pleasure of listening to the Hon. Luther A. Johnson, Congressman from the Corsicana district of Texas."

"Mr. Johnson proved a very forceful speaker, and his eloquence, combined with his facts and figures on the Republican administration, stirred the hearts of all true Democrats."

"Mr. Johnson was sent to Mayfield in place of Senator Caraway who found it impossible to reach here in time for his advertised appointment this afternoon. He was introduced by the Hon. Houston Brooks, in a fitting Democratic way which in itself brought forth applause and commendation."

"Before entering into the political part of his speech, Mr. Johnson said he considered it a pleasure in behalf of his own personal friend Alben Barkley, and he considered it an honor to be able to appear for a speech in the county of Barkley's birth. And he declared he was also glad to be able to announce that the good old county of Graves was going to furnish the next United States Senator from Kentucky."

"Congressman Johnson is an orator of the highest type, and interested the audience from his very pleasing opening to the close."

"He said there was so much he could speak of that he must only touch on the outstanding notes and in dealing with these he played the Republican administration with figures that cannot be disputed."

ated by Fire Chief Keith to approximately $500 to furniture and $50 loss on the house.

Inez Messingale, an occupant of the house had about $100 worth of furniture destroyed which was not covered by insurance. All other damages was covered by insurance, it was stated.

Full-o-PEP

When
the day's work
is done

"YES, sir, I actually feel fine when the day's work is done. It's a fact! I am just full of pep until it's time to go to bed. 'I may be getting along in years, but, believe me, I am young in red blood! That's the whole secret of vitality, too-rich, red blood. I know—because I used to be completely worn out about 5 P. M. Began to think I was slipping. 'But do you know I found out the whole trouble with me was my blood. It needed building up. That was why I tired out so easily. 'So I went right to work building up red blood in my system with S. S. S. It built it up in a hurry, too. S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood-cells so fast that I could feel my strength come back and the years just seemed to roll off of me. 'Whenever I see anybody now who seems worn-out by work, I tell them about S. S. S. It will surely put you back where you can 'enjoy life. S. S. S. makes you look better, too. Clears up your skin—increases your appetite—puts firm, solid flesh on you—and drives rheumatism right out of your body. 'You begin taking S. S. S. and begin living again. It will do it for you!' S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical."

URGES DEMOCRATS GO OUT AND VOTE STRAIGHT TICKET

JUDGE R. R. OWEN SAYS PARTY PLEDGE SHOULD BE BINDING

To the Sun and Semi-Weekly Light.

It behooves every Democrat to cast a ballot in the general election to be held November 2. We should remember that the number of delegates each precinct shall have in the Democratic County Convention in 1928 and the number of delegates the county shall have in the State Convention of the same year, depends upon the number of votes cast for the party's nominee for governor. Hon. Dan Moody, in this election, and every loyal Democrat should vote and get everybody else to vote in this election now.

Every Democrat should support the party nominees from government down to constable. We obligated and bound ourselves to do so when we went into the primaries, and we cannot now do other than support the nominees. We deliberately went into and participated in these primary elections, and since the nominees of our party have been named in accordance with the "rules of the game" as we have agreed upon them, and no new facts have been developed or brought to light which would justify any in not carrying out an honest purpose we had when we went in. The party has spoken, and if we are not to be bound by the action of the party, then it is useless to have political parties.

Just recently we have been addressed by the Republican nominee for governor. The appeal made by this candidate was a most solid one. We were told that if we would become a two-party state we would be able to get a larger share of the pork barrel appropriations made by Congress, and have a better stand-in with the Republican administration, etc. This will appeal to some who know we are always looking for the "loaves and Fishes."

We were also told that we would get cleaner and better men in office in Texas. Well, when we think of Daugherty, Doheny, Sinclair, Fall, C. Bascom Sless, Pot Dome, the Little Garden House in "K" Street and a great horde of corruptionists who fattened under a previous president, and who were bequeathed to President Coolidge, we pause to follow the suggestion and lead of this speaker. Any Democrat who will bolt the party this year and then swallow the candidate of the Republican party, is verily "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel."

Let every Democrat march to the polls and repudiate the suggestion of this Republican candidate for governor, and repudiate the party which has produced the corruption in our National government for the past six years.

Respectfully submitted,

R. R. OWEN.

H. A. HALBERT HURT IN FALL REPORTED TO BE IMPROVING

The Daily Sun has received the following communication from H. A. Halbert, Coleman, Texas, who fell from a pecan tree recently and was seriously injured:

"Dear Editor:—With a grateful heart I acknowledge the kindness of many leading papers of the state in reporting my dangerous fall from a pecan tree. 'I ask further kindness in making this short report of my condition and prospective recovery. I am doing wonderfully well and improving rapidly. But the fall will leave me a cripple for the balance of my life. But it will not prevent me from keeping up my interest in public affairs and especially farm topics. I shall continue to give out articles on this work and will be able to carry on my special lines of business."

"Will other papers who published an account of my accident, also copy the above whether they receive a copy of it or not. 'Yours very truly,

"H. A. HALBERT."

PLAN ADOPTED BY TEXAS BANKERS TO MEET COTTON CRISIS

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Oct. 27.—A $5,000,000 corporation to hold 250,000 bales of cotton off the market for 18 months or longer enough to restore normal conditions, was the plan adopted here today by a committee of the Texas Bankers' Association for the purpose of saving the cotton situation in this State.

This is the machinery through which the Association expects to carry out its decision of yesterday to withhold at least 1,000,000 bales and reduce acreage 25 per cent.

The committee voted in favor of the corporation plan at the suggestion of Eugene Meyer, special representative of President Coolidge, who is traveling through the South in an effort to improve the cotton situation. He arrived here today accompanied by A. C. Williams, head of the Federal Farm Loan Commission.

Mr. Meyer said that while banks in Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama had agreed on $1,000,000 corporations of a similar nature, the real key to cotton relief lies with Texas.

Under the plan all such cotton corporations are to receive ten times the value of their capitalization or credit from the Federal intermediate credit banks.

The plan permits Texas farmers to borrow from 8c to 10c a pound on 75 per cent of their cotton at 6 per cent interest. J. A. Pondron, president of the City National Bank of Dallas, asked why the banks of the State with their abundant resources could not accomplish the same thing without organizing the corporation. Mr. Meyer replied that the corporation was necessary to supply a great stabilizing influence on buyers and sellers of cotton since it will let them know the government is behind them.

MRS. J. W. BAILEY DIED WEDNESDAY AT HOME IN DALLAS

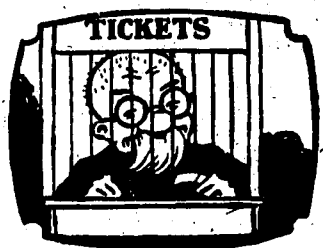

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Ellen Murray Bailey, wife of Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States Senator, died last night at the family home here after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Bailey was born in Oxford, Miss., but had been a resident of Texas many years. She was Senator Bailey's comrade through all his political battles and was considered one of the most charming women in Washington society while her husband was in the House and later in the Senate. Her health failed shortly after the Baileys moved here from Gainesville in 1920.

Funeral arrangements awaited word from her son, Weldon Bailey, of Tucson, Ariz. Another son, Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., of Dallas, and Senator Bailey were at the bedside when Mrs. Bailey died.

SECRETARY PRISON COMMISSION WITNESS BEFORE COMMITTEE

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 27.—James E. Ferguson submitted to him a list of persons he wanted considered for places on the Textbook Commission, Dr. W. M. W. Spaw, president of Texas University and ex-officio member of the commission nominating committee, testified before the House investigating committee today.

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Oct. 27.—Surprising the House investigating committee by walking in and announcing that he was Frank O'Rourke, secretary to the State prison commission, about whom some testimony had been given, O'Rourke voluntarily testified Wednesday.

He denied accepting money for the procuring pardons for convicts; but he said he did help prisoners at their request to get into connection with attorneys. O'Rourke was warned that his statements were voluntary and that they might be used against him.

As to the electrocution of S. A. and Forrest Robertson, Dallas negroes, O'Rourke countered the testimony of Commissioner Walter Sayles, chairman of the prison commission, Warden N. L. Speer and Chaplain A. R. Watson, by saying that the spectators were not drunk but were excited over the executions.

He denied that he told J. P. McAffee of the Ramsey prison farm to see if the boys could get together some money as the daughter of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was going to visit the system soon with a man on pardon matters.

Whiskey in Auto Seat. "The only whiskey I knew anything about when the Robertson brothers were electrocuted, was when some automobiles with some Dallas people came to the prison and I sat down in a seat and broke a bottle of liquor lying there and got it all over my pants," O'Rourke said.

"An electrocution is not like a prayer meeting," O'Rourke said. "There is considerable excitement. At the Robertson execution the 40 or 50 men there, most of them officers, all wanted to ask questions of the condemned men and I asked them to be quiet."

O'Rourke said that C. A. Putney, sentenced to 99 years for murder, had paid a large sum of money to a lawyer named Briggs from Gilmer to get a pardon, but that Briggs had done nothing and Putney asked him for help. N. L. Speer, the warden, at the prisoner's request took from Putney's funds $300 in currency, which O'Rourke turned over to his brother in Houston, who placed it in a safe deposit box the witness said. The money was to be held in escrow until J. L. Bailey, Houston attorney, got the pardon.

"I have not gotten anything nor given anything to anybody for a pardon except as I told you," O'Rourke said.

Interest in Prisoners Explained. O'Rourke explained his interest in the prisoners, saying that he recommended a pardon for H. A. Williams, convict hospital steward who had given money to attorneys to work for a pardon, but who had done nothing. He said he got E. A. Posey, Houston contractor, to get a lawyer, J. L. Bailey of Houston, and that Warden Speer paid $175 to Posey and that Posey gave him (O'Rourke) two checks totaling $200, which he gave to Bailey for Williams. He said that he loaned $25 to Williams to make up the $200 asked by Bailey and has never been repaid.

Warden Speer said he would help pay expenses of O'Rourke in making arrangements for the late Col. J. A. Herring, chairman of the Prison Commission, and part of the expenses for finding out who Governor Ferguson was going to appoint as new commissioner, O'Rourke testified.

"I told Speer that if I was not broke that I would not take the expense money," he said.

O'Rourke denied having discussed pardons for prisoners when the Governor visited the prison at Huntsville in April.

He testified that several hours before the Robertson executions a man who was "deadly sick from eating fish" came to his room, he said he did not know the man, but placed him on a bed and bathed his face, "because I felt sorry for him."

"Did this man see the executions?" Harry Graves, committee attorney queried.

"No, I didn't let him see the executions because I thought he was drunk."

"At last we have found one man who was drunk," exclaimed Graves. Paul Kock, four years a prison guard at Eastham farm, testified that he saw a still in Colonel Granberry's barn at the Eastham farm and that some mash was there. He said Lee Price, a lifer and a trusty, had the key to the barn and that when "they got wind that Commissioner Sayles was coming they knocked a slit out of the door and destroyed the mash."

"Captain Granberry said that if we employees did not support Governor Ferguson at the primary elections, July 24 that it would be pay day for us July 26," Kock said.

The Drunkard and the Glutton Shall Come to Poverty

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for October 31, 1926.

Read Proverbs 23.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

THE EVILS OF STRONG DRINK.

Lesson Text.—Prov. 23:29-35.
29. Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contention? Who hath babbling? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath sleeplessness of eyes?

30. They that tarry at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine.

31. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright.

32. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.

33. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things.

34. Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the topmost of a mast.

35. They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not; when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

Time.—About 1000 B. C. Place.—Jerusalem.

Golden Text.—At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.—Prov. 23:22.

This is written on an Atlantic liner as we cross from New York to France. It is a steamer of the Cunard line, a British ship. On the ship is a bar and liquors of all kinds of best quality may be had.

I was curious to see for myself just what those of us who live in do under the circumstances. I had read about the rush for the bar on these liners as soon as the ship passed the agreed lines of prohibition. I had read about the orgies of a journey across the ocean and I was ashamed.

I need not have been. On this ship are 304 passengers and of these 55 are of our party. There has been no rush to the bar room, there has been no orgy of drinking. One or two of the passengers have indulged too freely. By far the greater number of passengers have not touched the liquors which may be had for the asking. On the dining tables may be seen here and there a bottle of table wine.

To my own satisfaction I have seen that the stories of the drunkenness on liners is propaganda. It is my intention to study and contrast in Europe our prohibition United States.

Before prohibition was made a law in our blessed country I was a grown man and had already traveled somewhat. I remember very well conditions which at that time were endured as nothing unusual. On the railway trains were always drunken men. In the big city hotels they had a bouncer on the pay roll whose duty it was to throw out the disturbing drunkard. They did not disturb the man in a drunken stupor who was avoided but who was making no trouble. On the steamships men of high and low degree were drinking and drunken and often holsters. No infrequently there were fights and fatalities.

Travel now on the trains, stop in the hotels, ride on the steamships and observe and draw your own honest opinion.

This is not a sermon. I am trying to state facts and conditions which any of you may verify.

Centuries before the United States attempted prohibition, the boldest and the most remarkable attempt for the benefit of humanity ever attempted by any nation, wise men warned of the evils of drink. In ancient Egypt came the warning. The text at the head of this article is a vivid picture of a drunkard and a certain promise of what the drunkard will come to. It seems to me that we are adopting the wrong method in our work of making good at this law. It is not always to demand the obedience to a law because it is a law. Human nature rebels at being forced. Prohibition throws a glamour about the forbidden and we naturally rebel. Of course laws should be enforced or repealed. All good citizens will obey the laws under which they live, under which their property and their lives and their liberty of speech and the freedom of the press are taken care of. Yet I think that we need as many teachers as we do policemen, we need to do what the wise writer of the proverbs was trying to do, to educate the young people. They are not vicious. They are out for a good time. I believe in all fun possible. I do not believe in prohibition of joys, pleasures and social companionships. The boys and girls of our land should know what the drinking of liquor means to them. If they could see that it means distress, disaster, discomfort, disgust, disfigurement and disease, they might stop and look and listen.

A few weeks ago I was talking to a group of young men and young women, most of them just out of college, beautiful, sweet, intelligent girls, fine, manly and hopeful boys. I told them I was not going to ask them to take a pledge, not going to preach about drinking and drugs but going to tell them what drinking and drugs would do to their beautiful bodies and wonderful minds.

A few days ago I read in a book: "If a man were normally as foolish and silly as when he is drunk he would pay any sum of money, endure any privation, stand any trials to be cured."

Not only wise men of ancient times warned about drunkenness. Listen to two modern prophets. Abraham Lincoln said: "Whether or not the world would be vastly benefited by total and final abolition of all intoxicating drinks seems to me not an open question. Three-fourths of mankind confess the affirmative with their tongues, and I believe all the rest acknowledge it in their hearts."

Dr. Lorenz, great bloodless surgeon, asked a waiter for water, pushing aside the wine glass. "Are you a teetotaler?" he was asked. "I can not say that I am a temperance agitator," he replied, "but I am a surgeon. My success depends upon my brain being clear, muscles firm, and nerves steady. No one can take alcoholic liquor without blunting these physical powers, which I must keep on edge. As a surgeon I must not drink."

Men are saying, that prohibition in the United States is a failure. It is not true.

I sadly admit that the law is violated, that there is far too much drinking, that men in high places have betrayed their trust, that conditions in spots are deplorable. But compared to pre-prohibition days the flow of liquor is as the car load to the pocket flask.

Also I want to say that the bootlegger is not the most to blame; it is the so-called good citizen who is the bootlegger's customer.

If all church members, all Christians and their families should rise up over night and if their might demand and continue to demand honest—officials, honest enforcement of laws and let it be known that their votes would always count on that side, the prohibition question would be settled in one election and for all time.—The Republic Syndicate.

They crossed the Channel via Dover and Calais and visited France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Poland, Russia, Greece, Turkey, Egypt and Japan.

While in these foreign countries they were visited by many of the crowned heads of various kingdoms who wrote their autograph on the hood of the car and elsewhere. Among these autographs are the Ex-President's Harding's, John J. Pershing's, Charlie Chaplin's, Mary Pickford's and Douglas Fairbank's. William Jennings Bryan's and the notorious Francisco Villa, idol of the Mexican peons.

POLITICAL LEADERS SEEKING TO GET OUT HEAVY VOTE TUESDAY

Political leaders of the State are urging the voters to turn out Tuesday, November 2nd, for a large vote this year as the electoral votes for the 1928 presidential election will be based upon the votes cast in the general election this year.

A record general election vote was polled two years ago due in a large measure to the intense campaign waged in the gubernatorial campaign between Mrs. M. A. Ferguson, Democratic candidate, and Dr. Butte, Republican aspirant. Some were of the opinion that the electoral votes in 1928 would be based upon that vote.

George W. Walton, county chairman, announced Wednesday that he had received communication from headquarters urging the polling of a large vote this year so that Texas will receive a larger number of electoral votes.

It is feared in some quarters that an extremely light vote will be polled this year as the Democratic candidates are not expected to be pushed closely by their opponents of other parties.

CARRITA TEST IS BEING WATCHED IN BAZETTE DISTRICT

Every member of the Carrita Oil and Gas Company seemed to be in very high spirits Wednesday morning over the reports from the Carrita well No. 1, 17-acre farm, Matthews survey, two and a half miles northeast of Bazette, than the Pecan Gap formation was thought to have been reached at the 1,840 foot depth. This is 500 feet higher than this formation was reached in the Dodd well which is located one and a half miles south of the Carrita well. The Austin chalk is usually found at an interval of 200 feet below the Pecan Gap formation, it was stated, and if this is found in the Carrita well, oil men say it is the best sign of striking the liquid gold that they know of. Geologists who have made tests in this vicinity are very optimistic over the prospects of this well being a producer. Monday morning they had drilled slightly below the 2,000 foot level. The well is due east of the Buffalo school.

The Texas Company, Cheney No. 1, south of the Powell field reached the chalk at 2,426 feet and had drilled twelve feet in this hard formation at the last report, according to information received from the Texas Company Wednesday morning. This well is being watched with considerable interest as there have been six tests made in this territory which proved dry holes. Geologists say there is no reason they can see that this well should not prove a producer, as it

LOCAL DUCK HUNTER KILLS BIG TROUT AT LAKE WITH AN OAR

G. W. Summitt, Collins street jeweler, has the distinction of having captured the largest trout from Lake Halbert not caught in the usual manner, with hook and line. And neither did Mr. Summitt use a sein or net. Mr. Summitt used an oar to make the catch. Sounds queer, doesn't it? But that is the truth.

The way it happened was that while Mr. Summitt was rowing in the lake he struck a large trout that was figured as a five-pounder, and killed it with an oar. He brought the fish to town and after having the head cut off and the fish cleaned it tipped the scales at 23.4 pounds.

has very favorable indications from a geological standpoint.
